R s p o n s   t o   A r g u m   n t s

1.      Applicant's arguments filed 7/15/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Didomenico fails to disclose determining whether the occurrence of water interference exceeds or corresponds to an interference level. However, Didomenico is in interest of determining the occurrence of water interference corresponds to an interference level, such as eliminates interference from one or contaminant water, therefore, it has to first determine the occurrence of water interference corresponding to an interference level before eliminating.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2.      The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1.      Claims 1-22 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Didomenico et al (6,307,201) in view of Addiego (6,109,095).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). For applications filed on or after November 29, 1999, this rejection might also be overcome by showing that the subject matter of the reference and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person. See MPEP § 706.02(I)(1) and § 706.02(I)(2).

2. Regarding to claimed invention, Didomenico et al discloses the detector 16 which convert infrared energy to an electrical signal and computer 17 which uses these signals to compute and produce output signals indicative of the concentration of CO<sub>2</sub> and HC in the vehicle's emission, see col. 6, lines 50-55. Furthermore, Didomenico et al discloses the calculation for emission wherein results includes the ratios of the CO and HC and CO<sub>2</sub> voltages and the data are further analyzed by the computer to determine the concentration of each constituent within the exhaust emission, see col. 7, lines 5-13. Didomenico et al on col. 5, lines 5-29, discloses measurements of occurrence of water interference in gas sample and determines whether occurrence of water interference corresponds to interference condition. Didomenico et al teaches the claimed invention as disclosed, however, the reference does not teach individual HC concentration in gas. Addiego teaches a sensor for selectively detecting HC classes in gas mixture, see col. 6, lines 5-16. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to utilize Addiego into Didomenico et al for the use of sensor for determining HC classes in gas sample, because these measurements provides accurate proportion of hydrocarbon concentration.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
